Delicate roses decorate the pieces in Dolce & Gabbana's Mamma collection.

mamma mia

EXCLUSIVE TO THE TRENDSETTING WOMEN OF LAS VEGAS, NYC, AND LA, DOLCE & GABBANA'S LATEST FINE-JEWELRY COLLECTION PAYS TRIBUTE TO OUR BEAUTIFUL MOTHERS.

When Domenico Dolce and Stefano Gabbana launched a fine-jewelry line early last year, the design duo turned to love, family, religion, and their Sicilian heritage for inspiration. Rather than stocking the pieces in all Dolce & Gabbana stores, however, they decided to sell them exclusively in the three US cities where they felt the luxury, style, and sophistication of their high-fashion jewelry would be most appreciated: New York, Los Angeles, and Las Vegas. New this spring, the nine-piece Mamma collection honors the traditional beauty and essential role of mothers with elegant yellow-gold pieces decorated with hand-engraved pink coral roses, the floral symbol of unconditional love. One standout necklace refers to a woman's delicate nature with several columns of cascading roses set upon an intricate gold chain. The collection also includes chandelier earrings with a whimsical spirit, a dainty gold ring with an understated sweetness, and two versions of hoop earrings just begging for a vacation in the Italian countryside. Crystals, CityCenter, 702-431-6614; dolcegabbana.com ▼
